Plane Plunges Near Las Vegas And 28 Perish

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) -Wreckage of an airliner that hit a mountain peak in a storm last night was found this morning. Sheriff's deputies said all 28 persons aboard were dead.

The propjet Bonanza Airlines plane vanished during a snowstorm just before it was due to land on a flight from Phoenix.

Hunted All Night

Sheriff's units reported spotting the twin-engine plane about 7 a.m., after searching all night in the desert area near Arden.

Searchers were directed to the area by a motorist who told officers he saw the plane skimming the ground in a whirl of snow eight miles south of the city. The witness said the plane had one wheel down, as if it were trying to land.

The Fairchild F27, Bonanza Airline's Flight 114 from Phoenix, Ariz., was three minutes from a landing at McCarran Field when it vanished from the radar screen at 8:27 p.m.

All enlistees are completely tested prior to enlistment and then guaranteed the exact schooling or training of their choice, in writing, before they enlist. Army enlishments are for three years, he added.

Sgt. Grsich said the Army does not require enlistees to sign promise statements before they enlist. The Army provides the enlistee a written guarantee for his or her choice, thus assuring their assignment. All guarantees are backed by the Department of the Army.

There are many technical courses open at this time, he said. In all, the Army offers over 125 technical courses, all taught by experts in their fields and widely recognized by civilian employers. Interested persons may contact the recruiter at 716 Ludington, or call ST 6-0403.

A nine-mile section of M-77 from Blaney Park to Germfask in Schoolcraft County has been added to the State Highway Department's Class A truck

By designating the route a Class A highway, M-77 now will be able to handle maximum truck loadings from US-2

More than 7,600 miles of Michigan's 9,200-mile state highway system are now Class A highways.

Conservation Changes

The public may not have noticed it much yet but all persons working intimately with the Conservation Department have. It has a new get-up-and-go. It has been extensively reorganized. It has some new leaders. It has shifted its personnel about considerably. It is ready to move more forcefully and it is moving.

Many of the changes that have produced the new organization and program were suggested by Governor Romney's study committee in 1963 and by the Wildlife Management Institute, and many have been generated by the Conservation Commission and the Department, some of them to use new opportunities like those presented by the federal Land and Water Conservation Act passed by Congress this year.

The new setup is designed to give the people of Michigan and the state's guests and customers more use of state resources-more forest play, more hunting and fishing, more outdoor recreation.

Conservation Director Ralph MacMullan tells of some new things that are cooking in the front of the conservation stove in the current issue of Conservation Topics. The Topics itself is an evidence of the new outlook. It goes to all Department employes, the outdoor press, etc., to keep them informed on Department activity.

Governor Romney's Committee was dismayed to learn that the Department had shortened up its inservice training program as an economy. "We propose first to inform our own employes," says MacMullan. "We haven't always done a good job of this in the past. Already in the mill is a broad program of inservice training and orientation. Every Department employe will be exposed to each program and will know where to direct you for the dope.'

The Land and Water Act will bring Michigan nearly $3 million next year in federal grants. This means that with Michigan matching funds "we are launching Washington Comment a new $10 million program in Michigan for purchase and development of all kinds. That is equal to half our WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Alter that, the group and development of all kinds. That is equal to half our When freshmen congressmen only one more time and was present Department budget," said MacMullan.

Second car

A second car that takes you all over town ... that's one of the many roles the telephone plays in your life. For the telephone is always at your disposal, ready to take you to the store, the doctor, the cleaner, the plumber, an old friend.... Dial the number and you're "there."

You reach people fast by telephone . . . without losing time and temper fighting traffic and looking for parking spots.

Your telephone actually saves you money while taking you around town from your easy chair. In fact, the more you use this second cur. the more you're likely to save. You save time, and save expenses that would otherwise mount up if you had to go everywhere in person.

It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone second car to take you places the fast, easy way. And it's still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.
